How I Was Scatped.

BY N. P. DARLING.

I wish you could have seen Miss Medora Budderfi in the fall of 1860. She was just the loveliest, sweetest creature that these blue orbs of mine ever beheld upon.

Every young man in Laramonia was over head and ears in love with her, your humble servant, who also was not young, included. She was then in her eighteenth year, and had just returned from Madame Crinkum's boarding school, where she had passed two years, and in that time she had blossomed out into a decidedly pretty and exceedingly charming person. We could hardly believe it was the same girl that had been only two years before. I remember the first time I saw her after her return. I was standing behind the counter in my store (I was in the dry goods and grocery line, and occupy the large brick building, that stands in front of the railroad depot. Perhaps you have seen my sign in passing through Laramonia on the cars. William Henry Jennings, in large gilt letters over the door, endeavoring to sell a dress pattern to old Mrs. Munger, when through the medium of my olfactory nerves, I became aware of a third person in our immediate vicinity. I raised my dove like eyes, and beheld Miss Budderfi just entering the door.

Before her scented a gale of sweet perfume," as Homer said Helen, a Greek lady of some note, though where she bought her perfume the poet does not state. Miss Budderfi used Phlox's.

She was arrayed in a neat, rose-colored morning dress, and upon her dainty head she wore one of the most charming hats (or I thought so then—it's out of fashion now, consequently must look horridly, and on her face she wore such a sunny, melting smile, that upon my honor, maiden, I said that these pattern to old Mrs. Munger for ten cents a yard less than cost, before I could recover myself sufficiently to erect this cause of this remarkable fall in my goods.

"Is it possible," cried I, taking her hand in mine, "that this is little Medora Budderfi?"

"Why, Mr. Jennings, have I changed so much?" she asked.

"You have grown so—"

I hesitated. I felt a bluish creeping up between my shoulder blades.

"So—what, Mr. Jennings?" And she turned her dark eyes full upon my face.

"So lovely!"

"But her clear cheek the blood was brought,

Blood-red as sunset summer clouds which range

"The verge of heaven."

But I saw that she was pleased with the compliment, notwithstanding it came from a bachelor of forty, who had often dandied her upon his knee and given her sugar-plums when she was a wee little maiden, only a few short years before.

"When did you arrive in town?" I asked.

"Last night; and now I am to remain in Laramonia, notwithstanding it came from a bachelor of forty, who had often dandied her upon his knee and given her sugar-plums when she was a wee little maiden, only a few short years before.

"I have just completed, of course."

"Yes; nothing more to learn. Madame Crinkum put on the finishing touches during the last term," she replied, with a smile.

Then, at her request, I displayed a variety of finics, muslins, laces, ribbons, &c., for her to choose from, which it took her very long time to do, though I wished it had taken longer still; and meantime we had a great deal to say, and very unnecessarily got our fingers mixed up as we unfolded the goods and selected the ribbons, while the "sweet intercourse of looks and smiles," as Whittier says, went on between us, quite independently of everything else.

There was our first meeting as man and woman. I had thought of her as nothing but a child before. Now, as she passed out of the store, I felt that she carried with her immense slice from the choicest side of my heart; and at subsequent meetings she managed to rob me of the rest, so completely to rob me, although no more so than a dozen of our young men, who also worshipped at her shrine, and who Miss Nellie Pimman denominated "Medora's chain-gang."

I supposed we were all desperately in love, but not one of us could claim to have been more highly favored than another, or at least I could not, for when she began to suspect what my intention was (I did not try to conceal my love, though I dared not hope it would ever be requited), she became very reserved with me, which I, wisely or not, supposed was intended on her part to give my humble servant to understand that she was not for him at least.

But with this exception, she showed no partiality for one more than another. This was tantalizing to say the least. If she went to ride with Smithers one day, she was sure to ride with Brown the next. If she went to a concert with Green, Black, Ballou, or Gray.

"She's a coquette," said Smithers.

"I think not," said Brown. "She hasn't given a single gentleman in Laramonia any reason to suppose that she is, or him, is it her fault that you are all so madly in love with her? We can't keep away. Now what would you have her do, forbid every gentleman except yourself to enter the house?"

"No, but she might show her preference," answered Smithers.

"Yes, if she has any."

"I think so."

This conversation, which took place in my store, one afternoon about six weeks after Miss Budderfi's return home, might have taken a very unpleasant turn at this point but for the entrance of a couple of ladies. One was Lawyer Dunderdy's wife, and the other was a stranger to us all.

Thrustened to wait upon Mrs. Dunderdy while the strange lady stopped at the showcase at the further end of the counter. I am quite intimate with the Dunderdys—I found grandfather to their only son, a life arrived in Laramonia—and am pretty well acquainted with all their "relations and friends," but here was one that I had never seen before. Learning over a cut of shooting which Mrs. Dunderdy was examining, I whispered my question postively, thus:

"Who is the maid with golden hair, with eyes of fire and heart of ice?"

"I have told you a number six last, and her eyes were sky blue," answered Mrs. Dunderdy. "She is a widow, and my cousin, Mrs. Vastings. She was married eight years ago and went to Chicago. Has just returned to the East, and I hope she will remain. Shall I introduce you?"

"By all means."

The lady swept along towards us. She was really a good looking woman.

"Superb in figure and of stately size; An Amazonian temper, round and ripe As Cytherea—with delicious eyes That laugh or languish with a shifting hue Somewhat between a hazel and a blue."

She smiled gracefully upon me when the introduction was made, and even knows when a white smile is given to sudden's like sunshine, but only is sunshine after rain—

Gladly.

She was of a blonde complexion, moss wondrous golden hair, wondrous and it was all her even, excepting the color. T a white hair and soft as a dove most exquisite mood. Lips of scarlet, and teeth—blue alone, they were beautiful, them so? I never knew many.

At last Mrs. Dunderdy placed her purchases on the counter.

"Why haven't you done?" she asked eyes said, "Why do I have been blind?"

"I have been blind,"

"Who?"
"Medea Badderfill!"
"The d--ckens!" I sank into a seat.

She hung her head for a moment, and then raising her dark eyes to mine, she whispered:

"I loved you!"
"Me! Loved me!" I exclaimed.

"Yes, and I knew your secret. It was told me by a lady who lives in your native town."

"Well?"
"I heard you were going to marry Mrs. Vastings. I could not have it so. I hear, her speaking only yesterday of your beauty and hair, and then I resolved upon my course. I have turned you into ridicule."

"Come to my arms, darling," I cried, folding her to my breast.

"Do you forgive me, William?"
"A thousand times, darling," I answered, kissing her sweet lips. "And you will be mine?"

"Yes, forever. Here's your scalp, love," and she placed it on my head.

Just a month from that night we were married; but to this day, no one in Larroville knows who the young gentleman was who scalped Captain John Smith.

our sensations—a strange and mingled feeling of sorrow, disgust and humiliation. But we must be patient under calamities which follow calamities—hoping still to live to see the time when our laws may again be enacted by the honorable, intelligent and true representative men of the State.

We will refer more particularly in our next to the growth and business prosperity of the cities of Atlanta and Rome.

New Grocery, Provision Store and Commission House in Jacksonville.—It will be seen by reference to the advertisement of Messrs. Montgomery Bros. that they have recently opened a store of this description, at Crow's corner, lately occupied by Mr. Isaac Seymour.

These gentlemen will keep constantly on hand a large and varied stock in their line. Their liberal, fair and correct manner of transacting business, has thus far given the most perfect satisfaction to their patrons; and is such as we believe cannot fail to secure them a successful and prosperous business.

Tragic Result of Negro Superstition.

On Thursday last six negro men were committed to jail in this place, charged with having been engaged in an attack on the Saturday night previous on a negro man named Frank Embrey, who was shot in the arm and side, and at the same time, his wife shot dead, three shots having been fired. It appears from the evidence given in on the preliminary trial, that Frank had become obnoxious to a number of the negroes in the neighborhood, from a superstitious belief that he was a sorcerer, and could at will, fling his pains, lizards, &c., and that he could make a mark, and if any woman, she would be poisoned. Aroused to the murder they attacked with rocks, and beat him severely, ordering him to leave the having failed to do so, they stoned him, and the three shots were fired, stated. No white man intervened in the difficulty.

A passenger train on the Dalton R. R. ran off at night last, smashing six cars, but nobody

While in Montgomery, we attended the State Fair two days. An immense crowd of people attended, but the number and variety of articles on exhibition did not meet public expectation, particularly in the line of a variety of stock. There were a great many fine horses on the ground, and some splendid trotting matches took place. We also attended the Press Convention on Thursday; but in consequence of the small number in attendance, no business of importance was transacted. On Thursday night, the democratic and conservative members met at the Advertiser Office, at which speeches touching on political issues were made by Col. Hodgson, of the Mail, Col. Tyler of the Advertiser, Mr. Whitehead of Greenville, Col. Sloss of Tusculum, and others. Gen. Clanton, Chf. of the democratic State Executive Committee, being present was called upon, and spoke at some length. The democratic party of Alabama may rest assured that unity of purpose and harmony and concert of action will prevail with the entire democratic press of the State.

On Friday, the only day the Legislature was in session while we were there, we spent several hours at the capitol, witnessing the proceedings in the case of the expulsion of Mr. Magee, of Mobile, a more particular account of which our readers will find in some comments from the Montgomery Advertiser. We understood that it was in contemplation to expel some three or four other democratic members, under one pretence or other. This was the first time we had ever witnessed the proceedings of a mixed Legislature, composed of white and black. But we will not trust to words to describe the extent of these works, and they are still adding to their buildings and machinery. Any and every article in their line can be promptly furnished by the Messrs. Noble Bros. of as good quality and on as favorable terms as can be obtained anywhere else in the country. Such men are the real benefactors of the country. They have done much by their business capacity, energy and enterprise for the thriving city of Rome. We were much gratified to learn also, that Mr. Samuel Noble has recently purchased valuable iron property near Oxford, in this country, and will have works in operation as soon as practicable.

READ AND BELIEVE.—The following extracts from the Lumpkin (Ga.) Palladium: The editor is Dr. Blackburn, who is himself an experienced physician. His testimony, therefore, is worthy of reliance: "Darby's Proprietary. There never was a remedy introduced that has so justly gained an extensive reputation as Darby's Fluid. Knowing the distinguished inventor as well as we did we were prepared to endorse his Fluid without testing its virtue, believing that he would scorn to be instrumental in palming off upon the credulous a worthless article. But having seen the Fluid tested in several instances we feel no hesitancy from our own knowledge of medicine and chemistry, in asserting that it is the best Proprietary disinfectant now extant. No family should be without it."

MISSISSIPPI ELECTION.—The latest telegraphic despatches report the election as progressing quietly.—Judge Dent, the democratic candidate 700 ahead, his election considered certain.

PREMIUMS AT THE FAIR.—The Catwba Wine of Capt. D. P. Forney of this place, we are pleased to learn, took the premium of a silver cup worth $5 at the Rome Fair, and also a cup worth $10 at the State Fair at Montgomery. It has since been on exhibition at the Selma Fair, and we doubt not with equal success.

For the Jacksonville Republican.

Mr. Editor:

I was present on Saturday the 20th inst., at a meeting of a number of the citizens of Jacksonville, called to consider the question of raising by subscription, an amount of money sufficient to build a College within the corporate limits of the town. The meeting was not large in numbers, but the result proved it to be composed of clear headed, large hearted liberal minded men.

The sum raised amounts now to nearly $12,000. This settles the question, and you may proclaim it to your readers as a fixed fact that we shall have a noble institution of learning in our midst. Jacksonville has acted wisely—nobly. She is performing a great duty. Let every public spirited citizen of the great county of Calhoun (three honored names) now come forward, and doubling or tripling the sum already raised, found an institution which shall be the pride and glory of her people. What citizen—what man will not stand back and refuse to contribute to the accomplishment of such an enterprise?

We hear much said of late about developing the material interests of our country—of elevating her from her fallen estate by the building of rail roads, the establishment of manufactures, and by turning to account all those wonderful material resources with which it so richly abounds. But there are interests far more valuable than any, or all of these. There are re-sources to be developed more precious than all the gold of Ophir. Diamonds to be culminated and polished more brilliant than all the gems of Goldconda. The Intellectual and Moral interests and resources of a people, are immeasurably paramount in importance to all others. If these are overlooked or neglected, all the rest will fail. First give full and perfect organization and development to these, and you will have secured a foundation, broad, deep and sure, for your country's prosperity and renown. Do this, and soon you shall have a noble people, with wise heads and pure hearts, developing, with wisdom and energy all the other resources of our country, and carrying her onward and upward, amidst the clouds and storms of detraction, in the vanguard of civilization to heights of moral and intellectual grandeur never yet attained? "Wisdom exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." It is under the pressure of calamity, or on the plea of poverty, we neglect our first, highest and most sacred duty—the education of our children. We shall make a fatal mistake. An ignorant people mistaking the proper objects of ambition—and pursuing even mistaken objects, by mistaken means, never did, never can elevate a State.

But Sir, I rejoice in the hope that we shall avoid this fatal error. The meetings on Saturday and Saturday evening, and their enlightened action, auger well for our country. Let us make Jacksonville a Rail Road center, a commercial center, a manufacturing center,—but first and above all, let us resolve as one man, that whatever else it may be, it shall be something better than any or all of these, a CENTER OF LEARNING.

Have we any friends abroad who would lend us help in this most worthy enterprise? Have any in Montgomery, or in Mobile, or in Rome, or in Atlanta, or in Augusta, or in Charleston? I do not name Selma because she has already aided us with a liberal hand. Will the other cities follow her generous example? Have we any friends anywhere East, West South or North. By their works we shall know them. Send your paper to them all. Mr. Editor, and call their attention specially to this enterprise. Send a copy to Com. Vanderbilt, to Stewart, to the Astors, to Dr. Sears, and even to our pious and benevolent friend Horace Greely, who so often and feelingly deplore our half civilized, or semi barbarous state. Send it to the manufacturers of School Apparatus and School-room furniture, to the manufacturers of Sash, Doors, Blinds, &c., to all, in a word, who can in any way contribute to the success of the enterprise. Give to all a chance to do something toward the full and perfect accomplishment of a good work. But above all whatever others may, or may not do, let it be understood that we the people of Jacksonville and of Calhoun county have resolved that this work shall be done—that come what will our sons and daughters shall be educated.

S. FOUCHÉ.

P. S.—Will papers friendly to education, speak for us a word in season.

The Work of One Year.

Courage Democrats! There is no cause for discouragement or despair in the ranks of the Democracy anywhere. Let them look over the field and see the great work the Democracy has done within one year, and then see which party is nearest dissolution. Among the States Grant carried in 1858, were Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, and California. These gave him an aggregate majority of 285,247. Among the States that went for Seymour New York, New Jersey, and Maryland. These gave an aggregate Democratic majority of 44,811. Leaving a total majority for Grant in the eleven States mentioned 240,436. Those same eleven States have voted within the last two months, for candidates of greater or less importance, but always upon question of party. One of the eight States that went for Grant last fall, this fall goes Democratic, leaving only seven, which have given aggregated Radical majorities of 75,500 against 285,247. New York, New Jersey, Maryland, and California have this fall given aggregate majorities of 82,000, against 44,811 last year. This instead of leaving a Radical majority in the eleven States of 240,436, leaves the Democracy a majority of 5,500! Within one year, the Radical majority has decreased 209,747, while the Democratic majorities have increased 37,189. This appears glory enough for one year, and a sufficient encouragement to nerve the Democracy to renewed hard work for better and lasting victories.

Manufacturing in the South.

The editor of the Newburyport (Mass.) Herald, who is well posted up in the manufacturing business, writes as he does at this month of the Merrimac River, which turns more spindles probably than any river in the world—Concord, Concord, Amoskeag, Manchester, Lowell, Nashua, Lawrence, Haverhill, and other great manufacturing cities of Massachusetts,—thus speaks of the manufacturing prospects in the South: There is a main at the South for cotton mills. They are going up by the scores in Georgia and Alabama, which States will soon be able to supply the South with all the coarse cotton they need, and it is not impossible that Southern cottons will be in the Boston market within seven years. We have seen greater changes in trade in other directions than this would be. The only trouble with manufacturing in the South heretofore, has been the want of proper operatives. Slaves could not be worked in factories; free blacks were good for nothing, and free whites were no better for such purposes.

There was a prejudice against factory labor, and there was no foreign immigration to remove it. Hereafter it will not be so. There will be a large immigration from the North and from Europe. It will be larger in seven years from this date the people dream of now. Some blacks will be fitted for the work, or if not, Chinese will come in who will be admirably adapted to such employment. This will push Southern manufacturers to be competitors with those of the North, and when they have trained their labor force, work they will easily pass to fine goods. Water power is abundant there, and cheap, so is coal; and the cotton grows in the shade of the factory, and can be had cheaper than here. The only trouble seems to be that manufacturing is already overdone. England and the United States each produce more goods than can be disposed of, but the South will be able to undersell them in their Southern and Western markets, and our manufacturers will have no defense against such competition.

TERRIBLE OUTRAGE.—The persons of two young ladies were terribly outraged on Thursday morning last, about thirteen miles from this city on the Jacksonville road. One of them is so terribly injured that it is doubtful whether she will recover from her injuries. The negro was traced to this city, and arrested this morning. Quite a crowd of his colored brethren have gathered around him, and are apparently sympathizing with him. He will be carried before the young ladies, and if he is recognized, as the scoundrel, he ought not to see another sun.

English News.

SOUTHERN GENIES.—The Calhoun Eagle, contains a gratifying piece of information concerning the work of a native Alabamian. It says:

We had the pleasure, yesterday evening, of seeing and inspecting the latter Patient, recently granted to our fellow Citizen, Dr. R. L. Dringham, for an improved Cotton Cultivator, by the United States Government. We do not claim to be judges of machinery, but from an inspection of the Drawings we are satisfied that the invention will accomplish what is claimed for it—that is to say, the "chopping out" and simultaneous cultivation of twelve to fifteen acres of Cotton Plants per day, the operation driving two horses and riding at the same time comfortably with all the means conveniently arranged around his seat for regulating and adjusting the machinery to suit its varied applications. We think our Southern Planters should feel inspired by this Extraordinary Invention for their particular benefit, and we bespeak for the Inventor a warm and hearty response of appreciation from the citizens of our exalted country, in his persevering efforts to establish the old "King (Cotton) once more upon his ancient Throne. We understand the Doctor contemplates the introduction of his machines to the market next Spring for the cultivation of the crop of 1870, and would recommend to our readers to make an early engagement for one that they may not be left behind in the race for rapid cultivation, early growth, and improved maturity of the great monarch staple, First come first served is the motto and shrewdness rule. Look to your interest every one!

PERSEVERE.

Spite of failure, spite of danger,
To all doubts and fears a stranger,
When a noble course beginning,
Doubting, wavering, is but stalling,
If success you would be winning,
Persevere.

Though ignoble tongues assail you,
Let your courage never fail you—
Bright the future flows toward you,
Your own deeds will reward you,
Let no hate nor fear retard you—
Persevere.

Does He Drink?—When riding in Central Park, New York, not long ago,
two gentlemen were thrown from a carriage,
and one of them, a distinguished politician, was killed.

A sensible, sympathizing lady, on hearing
of the unfortunate event, instantly
enquired, "Had he been drinking?"
Yea, verily, they had been "drinking and winning." They were imprudent enough to attempt, when in a state of inebriation, to drive a span of spirited horses. The wonder is that both men and horses had not been killed.

"Does he drink?" Then, no matter
what accident happens, nobody is surprised.
He is expected to come to some bad
end. Accidents are, nine times in ten,
the result of drink.

The man was tired and sleepy; he took a glass, and was run over by a railroad train, or he lost his money, his coat, his boots or his life.

"He was a promising boy, but like his father, he took to drink and was ruined."
"He graduated at the head of his class,
was an excellent scholar, but in an evil hour he gave way to his evil appetite and is now a public pauper."

"He was an only son. All the hopes of his fond parents were centered on him,
but he became a drunkard and is lost!
lost! lost!"

"Charlie was a handsome fellow, and popular with all the ladies and lasses; but Alas! that fatal but—drink, sent him
to an untimely grave and bowed the heads of his bereaved parents with unutterable sorrow for his heartless conduct and impudent folly and sin."

Reader, cast about for a moment, and in your own experience recount the human wrecks which lie stranded on the coast of time! There was handsome William,
state Henry, plucky John, benevolent
Jonathan, magnanimous James, noble
Abraham, wise Daniel, the kindly Oliver,
and others, cut off prematurely by drink.
O God, save us from this destroyer.
Frequent accidents must inevitably happen to all who drink alcoholic stimulants.
—Misfortune will swiftly follow in the track of dissipation. Calamity awaits the transgressor. "God is not mocked." Let the sins of youth and manhood grow old,
and if not checked, in time
will choke down the better plant and prevent its maturing. Young man do you drink?

Ships are lost at sea; steamboats collide on river or lake, or are blown up;
horses are killed or crippled; carriages
smashed; railway trains thrown off the track; public buildings or private dwellings are burned, and the lives of thousands are sacrificed and jeopardized. Why?
By what? Because men give way to perverted appetite and indulge in that which is an enemy, and only an enemy to their bodies and souls. Young man, do you drink?—A. P. Journal.

BEING KNOCKED ABOUT.—It is a good thing for a young man to be "knocked about in the world," though his soft hearted parents may not think so. All youths, or if not all, certainly nineteen out of twenty, enter life with a surplusage of self conceit. The sooner they are relieved of it the better. If, in measuring themselves with wiser and older men,
they discover it is unwarranted and get rid of it gracefully of their own accord,
well and good; if not it is desirable, for their own sakes, that it be "knocked out of them." A boy who is sent to a high school soon finds his level. His will may have been paramount at home; but school boys are democratic in their ideas, and if arrogant, he is sure to be thrashed into recognition of the golden rule. The world is a public school, and if it so happens that he belongs to a leader, he will be installed in the position of a leader; if not,
whatever his opinion of his abilities may be, he will be compelled to fall in with the rank and file. If not destined to greatness, the next best thing to which he can aspire is respectability; but no man can be truly good or respectable who is vain and overbearing. By the time the novice has found his legitimate social position, be it high or low, the probability is that the disagreeable traits of his character will be softened or worn away. Most likely the process of abrasion will be rough, but when it is over he begins to see himself as others see him, and not as reflected in the mirror of self conceit, and he will be thankful that he has run the gauntlet and arrived, though by a rough road, at self knowledge. Upon the whole, whatever loving mothers may think to the contrary, it is a good thing for youths
to be knocked about in the world—it makes men of them.

A powerful cotton press is to be erected in Nashville, Tennessee,
by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company. It will reduce a bale of cotton 13 in ches in thickness with wonderful rapidity. The cost of the machine is thirty thousand dollars.

The Administration is strongly urged, from many quarters, to recognize the independence of Cuba. It ought, probably, to do so, but first let it recognize the independence of the South.—This is the matter that most deeply concerns
our country now.—Prentice.

Smith's Tonic Syrup!

AGUE AND FEVER, OR CHILLS AND FEVER.

THE proprietor of this celebrated medicine
justly claims for its superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the cure of fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He risks to the entire Western and South western country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion
that in no case whatever will it fail to cure.
If the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole
families have been cured by a single bottle,
with a perfect restoration of the general health.
It is however prudent, and in every case
more certain to cure if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient
however require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of Bull's Vegetable
Family Pills will be sufficient.

WORM DESTROYER,

To my United States and World-
Wide Readers.

I HAVE received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs
and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible
communications I have ever received.

DR. JOHN BULL'S. Principal Office:
No 40 Fifth Cross Street,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

VILLANOVA, WALKER COUNTY, Ga.
June 29, 1866

Dr. John Bull.—Dear Sir: I have recently
given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials,
and find it wonderful efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have reason to use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no more reliable remedy than the one you recommend, and I am sure it is the best of its kind. On the contrary they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you, is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine directly from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of
it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line of M. D.'s, but I do not see cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use it, and any means which relieve suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that float
the country, that purport to cure all manner of diseases to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms.

I am, sir, most respectfully,
JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D.

SARSAPARILLA.

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

Read the Captain's Letter and the Letters from his mother:

Benton Barracks, Mo., April 30, 1866.

Dr. John Bull.—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficacy of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I sent you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded about two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months.
Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set upon a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips.
My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have now found in your Sarsaparilla more in any thing else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige

CAPT. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 20, 1865, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Capt. Johnson.

Dr. John Bull.—Dear Sir, My husband,
Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in central New York, where he died leaving the above P. P. Johnson in my care.
After fifteen years of age he had a chronic dyspepsia and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. It cured him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio, and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores, and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cure was effected in a few weeks, and his general health was almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla.
He is fearful of getting a spurious article,
hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will recover
respectfully,

GENNIE JOHNSON.

CEDRON BITTERS.

Arkansas heard from.

Testimony of Medical Men.

Stone Point, White Co., Ark., May 23, 1866.

Dr. John Bull.—Dear Sir, Last February
I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

My son-in-law, who was with me at the store,
has been afflicted with rheumatism for some time, connected with the kidneys, and soon
found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and also improved.

Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters.
Indeed the Cedron Bitters has given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall
—especially your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care of Rick-ett & Neely.

Respectfully,
C. B. WALKER.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored.

Just published, a new edition
of Dr. Culverwell's CElebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA,
or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc.;
also, CONSUMPTION, EMPHYSEMA, and Piles,
induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable
essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured
without the dangerous use of internal medicine,
or the application of the knife; pointing out
a mode of cure once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer,
no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands
of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on the receipt of six cents,
or two postage stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address
the publishers.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The Advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple medicine, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, etc.

The object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable; and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription, will please address

Jacksonville, Feb. 24, 1866

A fine assortment of Ladies Gold Watches and Chains, just received by JOSEPH E. VEAL.

WHEREAS, by an act of the General Assembly of the State of Alabama, approved the 10th day of October, 1865, it is provided as follows: "It shall be the duty of the Probate Judge of each county in this State to designate a newspaper in which
all legal advertisements, notices or publications of any and every character required
by law to be made in his County, shall be published; which paper so designated shall be the official organ in and for said county;"
and in obedience to the requirements of said
act, I, as Judge of Probate for Calhoun County, Alabama, do hereby designate the "St. Clair County Eagle," as the official organ in and for said County of Calhoun,
in which all legal advertisements, notices or publications of any and every character required by law to be made in and for said County of Calhoun shall be published, said
designation to remain until recalled or changed by me.

And the "Jacksonville Republican" being a County paper, published in the Town of Jacksonville, Alabama, and in my opinion,
clearly within the provisions of said act, I therefore recall and change my order designating the St. Clair County Eagle, as the official organ for said County of Calhoun,
and designate the said Jacksonville Republican as the official organ hereafter, in which
all legal advertisements, notices or publications of any and every character required by law to be made in and for said County of Calhoun shall be published. This designation to remain so long as in my opinion, the Editor of said Jacksonville Republican conducts said paper so as to be within the provisions of said act.

PROPHITT'S LIVER MEDICINE.

It is safe and reliable; purely Vegetable, &
a liquid ready for use at any and all times.
Price 25 per bottle; 33 1/3 per cent. discount
by the dozen bottles or more.

O. S. PROPHITT'S LIVER MEDICINE

Has the advantage of almost any other preparation of Medicine that acts upon the Liver.
It is in the form of a Fluid Extract—ready for use at all times, day or night, and can be carried to any locality in America,
winter or summer, as it will neither sour nor freeze at any temperature that a human being can encounter with safety.

It is not too strong for children, nor too weak for the most robust. There is no troublesome drowsiness, or any other effect, but drinking it when you may want it. It has gained a very high reputation in every locality where it has had a fair trial, and the chance to prove itself, at one point in America, and it has been used in every State
south of Maine, and is like applicable to disorders of the Liver and Digestive Powers at all places yet tried.

Travelling parties North and South, carry it, and find the happy effects of it in all circumstances.

Neurache, Toothache, Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and bodily pains of every kind
it cures before.

PROPHITT'S PAIN KILL IT.

Prophitt's Liver Medicine.
Dr. Prophitt—Having used this medicine sufficiently long to test its virtue, and to satisfy my own mind that it is an invaluable remedy for Dyspepsia—a disease from which the world has suffered more than six years—
and being persuaded that hundreds of others
who now suffer from this annoying complaint
would be signally benefited, as he has been,
by its use, we deem it a duty we owe to the unfortunate class to recommend to them the use of this remedy, which has given not only himself but several members of his family the greater relief.

M. W. ARNOLD,
Of the Georgia Confederacy.

Dooly County, Ga., April, 1867.

This is to certify that I was confined to the house and most of the time to my bed, and suffering the greatest agony imaginable with Rheumatism, for five months, and after trying every available remedy, with no relief, I was cured with two bottles of Dr. O. S. Prophitt's Anodyne Pain Kill It, each costing 50 cents only; it relieved me almost instantaneously. I therefore recommend it in the highest degree to others suffering from similar disorders. I can say that it is one of the best family medicines now out, certain. Yours truly,
W. A. FORRELAND.

Covington, Ga., July 9, 1867.

Dr. Prophitt—Having used your Liver
Medicine for more than a year in my family,
I cheerfully recommend it to persons suffering from Liver affections, Dyspepsia or Indigestion in any form. I also recommend your Dysentery Cordial as the best remedy for that disease.

O. T. ROBERTS.

SEANFORDVILLE, Putnam Co., Oct. 1, 1867.

Dr. O. S. Prophitt—Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have used your Ague Pills for the last ten years, and I have never failed to cure the Ague in a single instance with them.
They always break the chills the first day
that they are given. I can recommend them as being the best medicine that I have ever found, and they leave no bad effects following them, as Quinine, &c.

Yours respectfully,
A. WESTBROOK.

PUTNAM COUNTY, Ga., Sept. 22, 1868.

Dr. O. S. Prophitt—Sir—I have used for the last two years in my family your Liver Medicine, your Pain Kill It, and your Female Tonic, and I have no fears in saying that they are the best medicines I have ever used for the Liver and Stomach, Neuralgia & Rheumatic affections, Headache, Colic, and pains of every kind are subdued by them.
After using the medicines so long, I cheerfully recommend them to any and every one,
and to all that are afflicted, as the best and safest remedies for all the diseases for which they are recommended, &c.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES WRIGHT.

DR. PROPHITT'S FEMALE TONIC.

This Medicine, with its associates, is a safe and certain remedy for all curable diseases to which Females alone are liable. It is also an excellent preventative of Nervous Blindness,
or Nervous Diseases in either male or female.
It is a powerful Nervous Tonic, setting up a full and free circulation throughout the system.

All of these Phlegmasia sold by Druggists and Merchants generally throughout the Southwest.

We invite the attention of dealers in Tobacco to the advertisement of Meador & Brothers, in another column. These correct, experienced and accomplished gentlemen have a very extensive establishment, and very heavy stock, and are enabled to offer inducements to purchasers, unsurpassed by any other house. Give them a trial in your dealings, and we venture they will give you the most perfect satisfaction.

Boots and Shoes.—The attention of retail dealers in these articles, is specially invited to the card, in another column, of Messrs. G. B. & A. W. Force, of Atlanta, Ga. The long experience and thorough acquaintance with the business possessed by these gentlemen, together with the large and varied stock always on hand, enable them to offer inducements, unsurpassed by any other house in their line of business. Call upon them while in Atlanta, or send forward your orders, and we venture you will be well pleased both in quality and price.

Our thanks are tendered to Dr. J. L. Burke, for late copies of the "Cincinnati Commercial," and the "Irish Times," published in Dublin, Ireland.

Fleishel & Bro., Wholesale dealers in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Clothing, &c. Atlanta, Ga. These gentlemen, who were formerly engaged in the mercantile business in this place, have now a very extensive establishment in Atlanta, Ga., and although they are constantly selling an immense quantity of goods, they manage to keep constantly on hand, by their admirable business arrangements, a very heavy stock of every variety of seasonable and fashionable goods, which they sell at remarkably low prices. Dealers in this section will find it to their interest to give them a call, and examine the quality and learn the prices of their goods.

See their advertisement in another column.

Silver & Dougherty, Wholesale dealers in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, Fancy Goods, Hosiery, &c. Atlanta, Ga. These competent and experienced business men have a very extensive establishment, kept constantly full of seasonable goods of the best quality and in great variety, in fact surpassed by few if any in the Southern States. The large capital employed by them, in their admirable business arrangements, enables them to offer as good bargains to country merchants as they can obtain in New York or Philadelphia. For particulars of locality see advertisement in another column.

Mr. John D. Rowland, formerly of the firm of Ryan & Rowland, in this place, is engaged in business in this house, where he may be found by his numerous friends in this section, ever ready to afford them every assistance and facility in the transaction of business.

Rome Advertisements.
We have only room this week to call special attention to new advertisements of business men in Rome—Messrs. Berres & Co., W. D. Hoyt & Co., C. W. Mills, and Henry A. Smith.

We shall have more to say of these separate establishments in our next paper.

American Hotel, Atlanta, Ga. The attention of the traveling public is called to the new card of this popular house—Messrs. White & Lykes present Proprietors.

Mr. G. H. Sneed, the courteous and gentlemanly Clerk, may still be found by his old friends at this house.

The advertisement of the "Germania Tanning Co." whose extensive establishment is located two miles north of this place, may be found in this paper.—This enterprising company have already expended about $20,000, and improvements are still in progress. Theirs is the most important manufacturing enterprise yet projected in our County, and has been a great advantage in circulating money, and giving employment to many who might otherwise have been idle. They have in their employment the best Tanners in the South, as has been proven by several descriptions of their leather taking the premium at the Fairs of Rome, Selma, Montgomery and Macon. We are glad too to learn that their investment is a profitable one, and that they have orders for leather faster than they can furnish.

Boys Set Your Traps.
For any animal that has a Fur Skin—J. B. Turnley & Co., will pay high prices for Furs.

To Rent.
A neat and commodious Store Room, on the western side of the square, fronting the Post Office, and 2nd door from the Jacksonville Hotel. Enquire at this Office.

Moore & Marsh, Wholesale dealers in Dry Goods, Boots, Shoes, &c., Atlanta, Ga.—We were politely shown through this establishment by one of the proprietors while in Atlanta, the other day.—If we remember correctly, the building is 180 feet in length and 65 in width, three stories high besides basement, full from bottom to top, of the finest, most fashionable and substantial Goods of every description, every class neatly and tastefully arranged. Their stock is kept constantly full, and from the large capital employed, we have no doubt they can sell goods to, and fill orders from Merchants in this section, upon terms as favorable if not more so, than they can obtain them in the Atlantic cities. Such has been the experience of some persons who have purchased from them on their return.

Mr. W. W. Draper, formerly engaged in mercantile business in this place with J. & B. Forney, and afterwards in Oxford in this County, may be found by his numerous friends and acquaintances in this house.

See in another column, advertisement of J. H. Holbrook, of Atlanta, Ga., who wishes to purchase, and offers the highest cash prices for Fur Skins.

The attention of dealers is also called to his large Stock of Fur and Wool Hats, of the latest and most fashionable styles.

Phillips & Crew, Booksellers and Stationers, Atlanta, Ga. Purchasers may always find in the elegant and extensive establishment of these gentlemen, every variety of the latest, most valuable and popular books; also Music, Musical Instruments, Picture Frames, Paintings, Maps, &c. Their uniform fair, correct and prompt manner of transacting business, has made them favorites with those who deal with them, and we hope to see their patronage greatly increased in this section. Call upon them while in Atlanta, or send your orders, with confidence that they will be promptly and correctly filled.

Fine China Ware.
Of every style and pattern, embracing tea sets 50 pieces for ten dollars, for sale by JOSEPH YEAL.

Mr. J. Harris says in the Agriculturalist, that he does not know how he could get along without petroleum. He keeps the work of his farm, tools and implements saturated with it, to keep the rain, sun and air from swelling, shrinking and ruining them.

Special attention is invited to new advertisement of Wm. Rothrock, Bookseller and Stationer, Selma, Ala. (formerly Lyman & Rothrock.) Mr. Rothrock is well and favorably known to many of our citizens, having formerly been Chief Agent of Transportation of the Selma and Tenn. R. R.

Honorable, fair and liberal in all his business transactions, we venture that he will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who patronize him in his new line of business.

Christmas is Coming.—See the various advertisements of Mr. Joseph E. Veal, of Rome, Ga. He has a great variety of fine and beautiful articles, from which selections can be made for Christmas presents to kindred and friends.

We were in the store of the courteous and gentlemanly proprietor a few days ago, and were charmed with the great variety of beautiful and valuable articles in his splendid establishment.

A fine assortment of Ladies' Gold Watches and Chains just received by JOS. E. YEAL.

German Meerschm Pikes.
A beautiful lot on consignment, for sale at New York prices, by J. E. YEAL.

We invite the attention of dealers in Candies, Fruits, Nuts, Toys, &c. to the advertisement of Mr. G. W. Jack, of Atlanta, Ga. This gentleman has a very extensive establishment and heavy stock, which he keeps constantly full. He is justly popular with the numerous dealers who trade with him, in consequence of his uniformly fair, liberal, prompt and correct manner of transacting business. Dealers in this section could not do better than to call upon him to send their orders; and we hope to see his patronage greatly increased with them.

FINE MOLASSES.—We were shown on Tuesday last, by Mr. P. Booser, a splendid sample of Sorghum Molasses, manufactured for him by Mr. John Hill in an evaporator. They are clear, almost white and considerably granulated. Certainly a good quality of sugar could be easily made from the variety of cane (black seed) from which these molasses were manufactured.

We learn from Dr. J. L. Burke, recently arrived from Huntsville, that the U. S. District Court, Hon'ble Busted presiding, after a session of 20 days, adjourned on Saturday the 4th inst. The Judge, having participated in the hospitalities of the Huntsville Bar, at a splendid entertainment given him at the Huntsville Hotel on Saturday night, left the city on Monday noon, accompanied by U. S. District Attorney Southworth, for Montgomery, Alabama. There will be no regular session of the District Court held in this city. Judge Busted will open court in Mobile on the 13th, and pass through Montgomery and remain a few days for the discharge of Bankrupts.

See advertisement of sale of valuable Land and Lots, by Administrators of John M. Creek, deceased, and Joseph Childers, deceased.

These are about the most valuable and desirable Lands in the county, and such an opportunity is seldom offered.

Here are a few pithy sentences which are truly suggestive. Sorrow's best antidote is employment. Beauty devoid of grace is like a hook without a bait. Confine your expenses, or they will confine you. He that falls in love with himself will have no rivals. If you cannot do as well as you wish to do as well as you can. Promises made in the time of affliction require a better memory than people commonly possess. When you hear a man say life is but a dream, tread on his corns and wake him up. Life is real. Be deaf to the quarrelsome, blind to the seer, and dumb to those who are mischievously inquisitive.

HINDS VS. SHERRON.—Yesterday, Hinds began, before Judge Busted, to take testimony of his witnesses (about 40 we learn) to establish his claim to a seat in Congress over Sherron, the successful Democratic candidate. Hinds' counsel were Gen. J. W. Burke and the new District Attorney, Southworth, and Sherron by Gen. L. P. Walker. Four white witnesses were examined and they knew nothing material. The fifth witness was a negro, named Orr. Under Gen. Walker's searching cross-examination, he showed so conclusively that he was lying, that Judge Busted discharged him, and Hinds, forthwith, abandoned the contest. So Sherron will take his seat next Congress, we presume.—Huntsville Democrat.

POETRY.

THE COBBLER'S HINT

REV. R. STODDARD.

PELL ST. CHAPEL, LONDON.

Caught in a pelting shower of rain,
While near the city road,
Lost it should wet me to the skin,
I to a cobbler's stall popped in.

The door stood wide abroad.
I begged a moment there to stay;
Until it should subside.
And whilst he did the lap stone put,
We entered on a friendly chat,
I spoke and he replied.

Old shoes said I that still decay,
Thou dost to mend device;
But canst thou not thy power extend,
And old apostate heart to mend,
Wherein all mischief lies?

He paused a moment—dropped hisawl,
Looked up, and thus he said:
I might as well attempt to bind
The surging ocean or the wind,
With this my waxen thread.

No sir! a heart so bad as mine—
No vile in all its bearing,
Is like the leprous house that must
At once be levelled to the dust,
For its beyond repairing.

Go, sir, and reach the sacred page,
That holy book is a true one;
Nor say it's a thought adulter,
Of God's intent of mending it;
But giving us a new one.

This lesson at Gamaliel's feet
Was never learned by Paul;
Nor was it by the Cobler drawn,
From mended shoes in Scores of lawn,
Brought up at Edmund Hall.

Thus spoke the man—a saint indeed,
By holy calling true;
He still contrived old shoes to mend,
But says he never will pretend
To make an old shoe new.

I blushed with shame beside his kit,
And pondered o'er his word;
And still believe, and dare maintain
The Cobler's hint was not in vain—
The thing was from the Lord.

With hand in hand, we laid farewell,
I left his humble shed;
And from that period to this hour,
Have cause to bless that pelting shower,
For what the Cobler said.

A Bit of Romance.

The following old and romantic incident
in the career of him for whom millions of people on two continents are mourners,
is told by the New York Star.

A number of years ago, when Mr.
Peabody was just entering upon his career
of success as a business man in Baltimore,
he met by chance, in the Street, a poor girl, who was but a child, but whose beaming face and gentle manner attracted his notice. Questioning her as to her name and surroundings, he found her
in every way worthy his regard, and a fit subject for his benevolence. He at once adopted her as his ward, and gave her education. As she advanced in age, the devotion of persons as well as the brightness of her intellect won the affection of her benefactor. Through this relationship
he had ample opportunity of watching her progress, and day by day her life upon his affection grew deeper. At length, though much he loved in years, Mr.
Peabody offered her his hand and fortune.
Gratefully appreciating his generosity,
and acknowledging her attachment for him
as almost a father, she with great feeling confessed that honor compelled her to decline the acceptance of this generous offer of generosity, informing her suitor
that her affections had been given to another, a clerk in the employ of her benefactor.

Though disappointed and grievously shocked, the philanthropist sent for his clerk, and learning from him that the engagement had been of long duration, Mr.
Peabody at once established his successful business, and soon after gave his benediction upon the marriage of his ward. This, it is said, was the first blow his heart received, and it is possible that
from this episode came the inspiration that made the fitting of Mr. Peabody's universal distress, and has rendered his name famous as the friend of his race.

Mark Twain's Idea of a Good Letter.

The most useful and interesting letters
we get here from home are from children seven or eight years old. This is a portion of truth. Happily they have got nothing else to talk about but home, and neighbors and family—things their bet-ters think unworthy of transmission thousands of miles. They write simply and naturally, and without strain the effect.

They tell all they know, and then stop.
They seldom deal in abstractions or homilies. Consequently their epistles are brief, but treating as they do of familiar scenes and persons, always entertaining.
Now, therefore, if you would learn the art of letter-writing, let a child teach you. I have preserved a letter from a little girl
eight years of age—preserved it as a curiosity, because it was the only letter I ever got from the States that had any information in it. It ran thus:

ST. LOUIS, 1853.

Uncle Mark, if you were here I could tell you about Moses in the bush, again. I know it better now. Mr. Snow-berry has got his leg broke off a horse.
He was riding it on Sunday. Margaret
—that's the maid—Margaret has taken all the spittoons and soap buckets and old jugs out of your room, because she says she don't think you are coming back
any more, you have been gone too long.
Bessy McElroy's mother has got another little baby. She has them all the time.
It has got little blue eyes, like Mr. Swinger that boards there, and looks just like him. I have got a new doll, but Johnny Anderson pulled one of the legs out.
Miss Dusenbury was here yesterday. I her your picture, but she said she kittens—oh! you can't think—twice as many as Lottie Buller's. And there's a short tail—and I named it for you.

"All of them's got names now—Gen-Grant, and Haddock and Moses and Margaret, and Dunderbong, and Captain Semmes, and Exodus, and Leviticus, and Homer Greeley—all named but one, and I named Greeley because the one I named for you's been sick all the time since, and I named it for you."

"I wonder how the short-tailed kitten for naming it for me. I wonder how the reserved victim will stand it." Uncle Mark, I do believe Hattie Caldwell likes
you, and I know she thinks you are pretty, because I heard her say nothing could hurt your good looks—nothing at all—she said, even if you were to have the small-pox over so fast, you would be just as good-looking as you were before. And no more this time, because General Grant and Moses are fighting. ANNE."

This child ticks on my toes in every other sentence, with perfect homeliness, but in the simplicity of her time of life she doesn't know it.

I consider that a model letter—an eminently readable and entertaining letter,
and as I said before, it contains more matter of interest and real information than any letter I ever received from the East. I had rather hear about cats at home and their truly remarkable people, than listen to a lot of stuff about people I am not acquainted with, or read
the Devil's Elbow of the Interlocking Railroad, illustrated on the back with the picture of a ragged scoundrel putting away
right and left in the midst of his family circle with a junk bottle.

FROM GALVESTON.

Galveston, Dec. 2.—A destructive fire occurred here this morning, consuming fourteen blocks and three-fourths of two others. The fire originated in the clothing establishment of John & Sons, corner Strand and Front streets. A cigar stand from the northwest prevailing, the fire swept in a southerly direction, burning three blocks on Front street, between Strand and Postoffice streets, and three blocks between Mechanics and Church streets. West and Twelfth-fourth streets, except the stores of T. B. Thompson, Sam. Hamlin, J. Barstow, R. E.
Jordan, N. Greenway, Texas Express
Office, J. M. Conner, Price & Terry, C.
P. Jordan, and Harbinger's building on Mechanics street, which was unscathed.
Dennis Wells's residence was the only one saved.

Keep Your Word.

A boy borrowed a tool from a neighbor promising to return it at night. Before he went, he was told away on an errand, and did not return until late. Before he went, he was told that his brother should see the tool returned. After he had come home and gone to bed, he heard and found the tool had been sent to his neighbor. He was much distressed to think his promise was not kept, but was persuaded to go to sleep and rise early and carry it home. By daylight he was up, and nowhere was the tool to be found.
After a long and fruitless search he set off
for his neighbor's in great distress to acknowledge his fault. But how great was his surprise to find the tool on his neighbor's doorstep? And then it appeared, from the prints of little feet bare on the mat, that the tool had got up in his sleep and carried the tool home. Of course, a boy who knows it well. Of course, a boy who was proud in his sleep was prompt when awake. He lived respected,
and had the confidence of his neighbors,
and was placed in many offices of trust
and profit.—Exchange.

Tracklaying on the Selma Road and Baton Railroad.

The Rome (Ga.) Courier of the 21st insists that there are now 2655 hands at work
between Rome and Baton, on the above named road. The grading will be completed in the next thirty days.

They have commenced laying the track
on the Rome end, and will commence on the Baton end in a few days.

It is the purpose of Capt. Barney, returning from his tour through to Baton,
in the first of January, but the chief engineer, Col. Le Hardy, informs us that at least the road will be completed by the first of March.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,
MANUFACTURER AND VENDOR OF THE Celebrated
Smith's Tonic Syrup!

AGRA AND FEVER,
OR CHILLS AND FEVER.

THE proprietor of this celebrated medicine
justly claims for its superiority over all
remedies ever offered to the public for the
cure of agria and fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the
entire Western and South Western country to
bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion
that in no case whatever will it fail to cure.
If the directions are strictly followed and
carried out. In a great many cases a single
dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole
families have been cured by a single bottle,
with a perfect restoration of general health.
It is however, a powerful and in every case
more again to cure it. It is contained in small doses for a week or two after the
disease has been checked, more especially in
difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require more than one bottle, and in every case should the patient
however, require a cathartic, medicine, after
having taken three or four doses of the
Tonic, a single dose of Bull's Vegetable
Family Pills will be sufficient.

BULL'S
WORM DESTROYER.

To my United States and World-
Wide Readers.

I HAVE received many testimonials from
physicians and medical men, as well as from various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible
communications I have ever received.
"I have used your Worm Destroyer for some time, and I can truly say that I have never known it fail to cure a case of worms, and its testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. I have used it in many cases, and Bull's Worm Destroyer."

VILLAGES, WALKER COUNTY, GA.
June 29, 1869.

DR. JOHN BULL.—Dear Sir: I have recently
given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials,
and find it a most valuable medicine. It has not only cured many cases of worms, but also relieved many cases of indigestion, and in some cases of fever. I have used it in many cases, and I can truly say that I have never known it fail to cure a case of worms,
and its testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. I have used it in many cases,
and Bull's Worm Destroyer."

DR. JOHN BULL'S
Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,
MANUFACTURER AND VENDOR OF THE Celebrated
Smith's Tonic Syrup!

AGRA AND FEVER,
OR CHILLS AND FEVER.

THE proprietor of this celebrated medicine
justly claims for its superiority over all
remedies ever offered to the public for the
cure of agria and fever, whether of
short or long standing. He refers to the
entire Western and South Western country to
bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion
that in no case whatever will it fail to cure.
If the directions are strictly followed and
carried out. In a great many cases a single
dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole
families have been cured by a single bottle,
with a perfect restoration of general health.
It is however, a powerful and in every case
more again to cure it. It is contained in
small doses for a week or two after the
disease has been checked, more especially in
difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this
medicine will not require more than one
bottle, and in every case should the patient
however, require a cathartic, medicine, after
having taken three or four doses of the
Tonic, a single dose of Bull's Vegetable
Family Pills will be sufficient.

WORM DESTROYER.

To my United States and World-
Wide Readers.

I HAVE received many testimonials from
physicians and medical men, as well as from
various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible
communications I have ever received.
"I have used your Worm Destroyer for some of October, and the regular course on Wednesday, the 18th day of October,

him tried him before a League Court convicted and sentenced to be hung. The white people, hearing of these proceedings, gathered to the number of about forty, and went in last to his rescue, before the sentence of the League Court should be executed. They arrived in time, and were fired on by the negroes, and two slightly wounded. Thereupon, the whites charged the black savages, killing one, severely wounding five others, and completely dispersing the band.

A vague rumor has reached the city, that twenty of the ruffians had been arrested, and the whites were day before yesterday afternoon preparing to hang them all upon the same pole.

Congress and Reconstruction.

By the latest telegraphic dispatches, we learn that Congress is about to admit Virginia into the Union, she having complied with every requirement, and her leading men made every promise of future good behavior required of them. But then, to make all things even, they are about to turn Georgia out, under circumstances of outrage, unparalleled. This reconstruction business has cost the nation hundreds of millions, and is apparently no nearer consummation than it was years ago.

Our State Legislature has been in session 30 days, and only eight bills passed and presented to the Governor for his signature—nearly all the time having been consumed in wrangling, and unsuccessful efforts to turn out democratic members. It adjourned on the 15th inst. to meet again on 10th January.

Jacksonville Hotel Reopened.

It will be seen by reference to the advertisement of Mr. J. D. Hammond, that he has reopened this popular commodious and well arranged Hotel. He has refitted and furnished it in a style well calculated for the comfort and accommodation of transient and permanent boarders. Mr. Hammond is a worthy, competent, polite and courteous gentleman, with considerable experience in the business, and we doubt not will give entire satisfaction, and make this house more than ever popular with its patrons.

BERRY'S & CO., Wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants, Rome, Ga.
—We published the advertisement of these energetic, correct and experienced business men in our last paper, and need only say now to their numerous friends and patrons in this section, that they are still driving ahead with their extensive business, at their old and conveniently located situation near the depot. They have heavier stocks than heretofore, kept constantly full, and increased facilities for the transaction of every description of Commission business. Orders forwarded to them will be promptly and correctly filled; and we heartily commend them to the confidence and patronage of all who are not already acquainted with them.

HOMICIDE.—We learn that on Saturday last, about dark, D B Moore, was killed at Cross Plains, by J. L. Thompson, who beat him to death with a club.

It is represented as a foul, cold-blooded murder. The relatives of Moore are unable to offer a large reward; but we hope the Governor, on proper representation, will promptly offer a suitable reward for the apprehension of the murderer.

HENRY A. SMITH.—To the literary man, Henry A. Smith offers every book calculated to please the fancy, or feed the intellect. To the musician, he tender the LATEST and most delightful music. To the giver of Christmas presents, he holds out the finest and best assorted stock to select from. His Stationery is as varied as his Stock is large. In short, his establishment is one without a rival this side of our largest cities.

W. D. HOYT & CO.—We promised last week that we would mention more particularly this magnificent Establishment, in our next. While in Rome we were shown through the entire house by one of the gentlemanly proprietors, and confess that we were astonished at the magnitude and excellence of their Stock. The mere fact that the trade of this house extends from Rome beyond Gadsden, on the River, and to Tallahassee on our Road, is its best certificate. What more need we say?

C. W. MILLS.—To all young housekeepers and those contemplating matrimony and even those old couples whose furniture has worn and grown antiquated, we cannot too highly recommend this excellent Furniture Store. We were shown entirely through the establishment and a more complete display of every variety of furniture from the most ordinary to the most magnificent, from the most ornamental to the most useful, we have never seen. Our R. R. connection makes it easy to order from them, and we commend them.

WE would call the attention of our worthy Town Council to the fact of increasing disorder in our Town, especially of nights on the part of both whites and blacks. On Tuesday night, one negro man chased another along main street, firing some 5 or 6 pistol shots, one only wounding in the thumb, but evidently endangering the lives of chance passers in the street. Since then pistol firing has been kept up every night.

If the Marshal unaided is not able to put a check to these things, the Council should devise means to assist him, in which they would be sustained by all good citizens. Perhaps while checking disorder they might ferret out some of the garden robbers who have committed numerous depredations of late.

Christmas week, unless some restraint is imposed, will greatly increase these disorders and outrages. We do not object to a cheerful, festive Christmas, but earnestly protest against so many making it the excuse and occasion for drunkenness, profanity and riotousness, which is a disgrace to civilization.

The churches of the Ten Islands association, East of the Coosa river will please call at the Republican office for their minutes of 1869, and those churches on the west side of the river will please call at the office of the Hon. John W. Inzer, Asheville, for theirs. CLERK.

Cathoun College.

At a meeting of the Stockholders of Cathoun College, held in this place on Wednesday last, the following gentlemen were elected Trustees for one year.

Hon. T. A. WALKER,
Col. S. FOUCHE,
" J. H. CALDWELL,
Genl W. H. FORNEY,
" E. W. BURKE,
Mr. E. L. WOODWARD,
" H. A. STOLLENWERBK,
" G. B. HOUTTILL,
" P. ROWAN.

We suppose the Trustees will promptly proceed to locate and put under contract the College building in contemplation.

By reference to the advertisement of W. J. Wills, Esq., it will be seen that a large body of valuable Land will be offered for sale to the highest bidder on the 8th of next month.

Also on the 10th two valuable Houses and Lots in Jacksonville will be sold.

In order to give the printers of the Republican, as well as others, some opportunity for rest and recreation during Christmas week, we shall only issue half a sheet next week, containing the legal advertisements. It is now the almost universal custom of the newspaper press to issue no paper for Christmas week, and we are therefore confident that our patrons will excuse our half sheet.

Enlargement of the Republican.

So soon as we can use or dispose of our present lot of paper, we intend to enlarge the Republican four columns, making it a 32 column paper, equal in size, with two or three exceptions, to any paper in the State. We have made arrangements whereby we can add greatly to its interest and value.

Inasmuch as this increase in size, (with-out increase of price,) will involve considerable additional expense, we earnestly request those of our patrons who are in arrears one or more years, to assist us at their earliest convenience.

We invite the special attention of the afflicted to the advertisement of Dr. J. A. Clifton, who gives notice that he will visit this and other localities on specified days.

By making those diseases his special study and practice Dr. C. has become celebrated for his success during a long experience. In a printed pamphlet circular, hundreds in this and other States testify to having been thoroughly cured by him; and some in this immediate vicinity, can witness to the same fact. The opportunity ought to be embraced by all who need the exercise of his skill.

If you want to a nice Christmas Cris Cingle Candy—prize in every box—price 25 cts.

See various notices of new, fashionable and cheap Goods at Rosenbergs. These gentlemen have thus far given very general satisfaction to their patrons.

We tender our thanks to Mr. J. A. Reeves, the talented, worthy and sterling democratic Representative from Cherokee County, for various valuable public documents.

No Resurrection—Death of a Free Government—An Eloquent Extract.

The following beautiful extract is from a speech delivered by Hon. D. W. Voorhees, of Indiana.

It is a melancholy spectacle to behold a free government die. The world, it is true, is filled with evidences of decay. All nature speaks the voice of dissolution, and the highway of history and of life is strewn with the wrecks which Time, the great despoiler, has made. But the hopes of the future, bright visions of reviving glory, are nowhere denied to the heart of man, save as he gazes on the downfall of legal liberty. He listens mournfully to the autumn winds, as they sigh through dismantled forests, but he knows that their breath will be soft and vernal in the spring, and that the dead flowers and withered foliage will blossom and bloom again. He sees the sky overcast with the angry frown of the tempest, but he knows that the sun will reappear, and the emblazonary of God cannot perish. Man, himself, this strange connecting link between dust and Deity, totters wearily, wearily on ward, under the weight of years and pain, towards the tomb, but how briefly his life lingers around the dismal spot.

It is filled with tears and grief, and the willow and cypress gather around it with their loving but mournful embrace. And is this all? Not so! If a man die shall he not live again? Beyond the grave in the Alien Hope provides an elysium of the soul where the mortal assumes immortality, and life becomes an endless splendor. But where, sir, in all the dreary regions of the past filled with convulsions, wars and crimes, can you point your finger to the tomb of a free commonwealth on which the angels of resurrection have ever descended, or from whose sepulchre the stone of despotism has been rolled away? Where, in what age, and in what clime have the veins of constitutional freedom renewed their youth and regained their lost estate? By whose strong grip has the dead corpse of the Republic once fallen, ever been raised? The merciful Maker who walked upon the waters and bade the winds be still, left no ordained apostle with power to wrench apart the jaws of national death, and release the victim of despotism. The wail of the heart-broken over the dead is not so sad to me as the realization of this fact. But all history, with a loud unbroken voice, proclaims it; and the evidence of what the past has been is conclusive.

Whatever in the domain of human conduct a people once possessed of liberty, have surrendered those great gifts of God at the command of the usurper, they have never afterward proven themselves worthy to regain their forfeited treasure.

From Washington.

Cor. Baltimore Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.

For the first time in the history of this Government, since the existence of the District of Columbia, it has been passed by without notice in the annual message of the President. The message of President Grant, submitted to Congress yesterday, does not even recognize the existence of the seat of the National Government. The House in appropriating to the various committees, by way of a joke, I presume, allotted to the Committee on the District of Columbia all that portion of the District of Columbia that the gentleman composing this committee are to be congratulated on the lightness of the task before them.

Mr. Sherrod, member elect from Alabama, who was objected to yesterday, was sworn in today. His colleague, Mr. Dox, is still left out in the cold.

The Capital movers have inaugurated their campaign. The reporter's gallery of the House was plentifully supplied this morning with copies of two pamphlets, written by a Mr. L. U. Reavis, and advertising the removal of the National Capitol from Washington city to the Mississippi Valley. St. Louis being the site selected. One pamphlet contains no less than 170 pages, a number of maps, and fairly bristles with statistics. It exhausts "the geographical argument," "the commercial argument," and does not wind up with "the conclusive argument," but adds "special and local considerations," and "what time." It is proposed to remove the present buildings piecemeal and remove them to St. Louis; and it is estimated that they can be taken down, moved, and re-erected in five years, at a cost of $100,000,000. I shall not pretend to go into details as to the advantages to be derived from this movement, as I have no faith in its success. Mr. Reavis is very confident, however, and says that "the change will be made within five years from January 1, 1869." He says, further: "Before two years from January 1, 1869, Congress will authorize, by its own act, the removal of the seat of Government from its present place, and soon will follow the President, national archbishops and the Legislature of the Republic." We shall see. Perhaps Mr. Reavis is a prophet. Who knows?

The Virginia delegation are still hopeful and confident of gaining their seats. It is believed that the reference of the matter yesterday to the Election Committee will not result in hindering the prompt admission of Virginia into the Union.

Financial men here pronounce the plan recommended by the President for the resumption of specie payment not only absurd but impracticable. They think his recommendation to Congress to "put an immediate stop to fluctuation in the value of currency," is imposing on that body a task which it is as little likely to perform as if it were commanded to turn the walls of the capitol building into solid gold. Secretary Boutwell's refusal to sell did not meet a certain demand is now regarded as having fore-boded the financial policy indicated in the message.

It is said the next monthly statement will show a larger decrease of the public debt than any previous statement. The statement will be furnished in English, French and German.

DIED.—In this county on 23d September last, L. J. HANNAH, son of J. W. and Mary Hannah, aged nine years six months and four days.

He was a promising boy, but it pleased God in his providence to take him to himself. We bow submissively to his will.

And with young, bright angel forms,

He lives to die no more.

FROM WASHINGTON.
Washington, Dec. 10.—Revenue to-day $850,000.

The awards made by the Court of Claims for cotton captured by the military aggregate $784,000 in twenty-nine cases. The Government has appealed them all.

Commodore John Rogers succeeds Admiral Rowan in command of the Asiatic Squadron.

In the House, a bill was introduced prohibiting the sale of coin by the Treasury.

The Committee on Foreign Affairs was directed to inquire into the correspondence attending the landing of the French cable.

A bill was passed for the removal of obstructions in Bayou Teche, Louisiana.

The census bill was discussed all day.

Two efforts to consider the Cuba question failed.

The New York TRIBUNE's dispatches from Cuba confirm the defeat of the Spaniards at San Jose, and also the severe punishment of negroes at Sagua.

The Diario says the Spanish in the district of Holguin are unable to move for want of reinforcements. Three thousand troops are necessary. The troops are suffering severely from sickness.

Seven sugar estates were destroyed in Remedios district, five in Trinidad and three in Cienfuegos.

Col. Camara, with six hundred men and five pieces of artillery, attacked the Cubans at Regas del Constellano. The fight lasted four hours. The Spaniards were repulsed with great loss. Forty-seven dead were left on the field.

Official statistics published in Havana show that from the commencement of the war, the Spanish loss amounts to eight thousand killed in battle, five thousand by disease, two thousand by desertion to the Cubans, and three thousand now sick. Thirty-five prominent Cubans have been arrested in Havana, for supposed sympathy with the Cubans.

FROM NEW BRUNSWICK.

St. John's, Dec. 10.—Last night being very cold, the crew of the schooner Retaken built a fire in a stove, and closed the hatches. Four of them were found dead.

FROM LONDON.

London, Dec. 10.—The steamship Brazilian, built expressly for the Suez canal traffic, had to discharge half her cargo before getting through.

The Duke of Saxe Coburg dying, Prince Alfred, of England, is his heir.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Dec. 10.—The bank at Galletin was robbed and the cashier killed. The robbers got only five dollars.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 10.—The Spanish gunboats were released to-day, and will proceed to sea immediately.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Montgomery, Dec. 10.—In the House to-day, Mr. Brown, (dem.) of Chambers, was voted out of his seat, and was refused the privilege of spreading his protest on the journal.

A motion to seat Ward, his contestant, was voted down.

McKinstry, (republican), of Mobile, was voted a seat to-day in place of Magee, (democrat), who was recently ejected on the ground of ineligibility for having been a Road Commissioner before the war.

The name of McKinstry was in the list of persons whose disabilities were removed this week by Congress.

FROM LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Dec. 10.—Congressman Golladay, a prominent candidate for the Senate from Kentucky, favors repudiation, on moral points, citing precedents in our own and foreign countries.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Montgomery, Dec. 13.—The Senate consumed the morning in discussing the bill allowing negroes equal privileges on railroad cars, steamboats, &c. An amendment was offered to provide equal separate accommodations.

Royal, only colored member, favored the amendment, and said the sensible negroes did not ask for social equality, and denounced the bill as a piece of demagoguery. Postponed.

In the House the Judiciary Committee was instructed to report a bill to abolish all lotteries. During the debate on this bill, bribery was much talked of.

The Legislature has been in session thirty days, at an expense of over forty thousand dollars, and only eight bills have been sent to the Governor for approval.
